SAYS HE SAW
MISSING GIRL
IN AUTOMOBILE

CHESTERFIELD, Sept. 18.—Declining that he saw Esther Hilbert, the twenty-year-old girl who has been missing from her home here since Sunday, riding in an automobile in Holyoke with three young men early yesterday, Charles Sproul of No. 63 Spruce street, Holyoke, has given the young woman's family new hope that she is still alive and will be found or return.

Spaul's statement tallies with the fact that a woman's footprints were seen on the road near the Hilbert house, and that an auto had passed that point. The footprints ended suddenly, as though the woman had entered a vehicle.

Spaul is certain that he saw Miss Hilbert in the automobile in Hiloyske. He worked for two weeks for the Hilberts, and knew Esther. Mrs. Hilbert has admitted that Esther last winter took horseback rides with young men, and that she had gone canoeing with him. On one occasion she remained out as late as 9 o'clock at night with him. When Esther went to Springfield a month ago to visit a friend, she was accompanied by a young man.

The truth of the story that Esther was seen at Lansdowne, Pa., a few days before she disappeared is denied by Mr. and Mrs.

A description of the missing girl has been sent to the police of all the big cities in the East. To-day, in response to a request from Boston, the police of New York are making a search for the girl in that city, as it is believed possible, if she left home of her own accord, she may have gone there.

Just as Judge Reed was about to acquit Charles Ingersoll, driver of the Meeting House Hill engine on the charge of assault upon Sidney Mander in the Dorchester Court to-day, Attorney Samuel Bishop, who appeared for the latter, collapsed in the Courtroom and caused great excitement. He was seized with a fainting paroxysm, brought on, it is thought by nervous tension during the trial, and had to be taken to a corridor by the crowd which rushed to his assistance. After this interruption Judge Reed decided in favor of the Freeman.

Teaches knitting and crocheting by the simplest method, made easy by illustrated stitches.

FINES FOR IMPURE MILK

Milk Inspector Jordan appeared in the Dorchester Police Court before Judge Reed to-day as the complainant against several milk dealers. William H. Wilson, driver for the Elm Farm Milk Company, was fined $10 for carrying milk that was above the required temperature. George W. Gardner of No. 55 Harvard street was fined $15 for having impure milk in his possession. On the same charge Henry P. Griffin of No.

EARLY TRIAL FOR HAINSES

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—District Attorney Darrin is making preparations to present the case of the Hains brothers, charged with the murder of William E. Annis, to the special grand jury which is to be sworn in on Monday morning next before Judge Garretson in the criminal branch of the Queens County Supreme Court. The district-attorney will ask for the indictment of both brothers for murder in the first degree. When they are arraigned to plead to the indictment the district-attorney will

GREAT BARRINGTON, Sept. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Abbey celebrated today their sixty-third wedding anniversary. They married at the age of twenty-one.

BON TON CORSETS

In telling about the new hip-less figure and just what it is and how it is built, Elizabeth A.C. White said to the Dressmakers in Horticultural Hall, Boston

"In Paris they showed me this harness to strap down the hips. They call it the moulage—it costs $68 and doesn't do the work. I come home and find an American Corset—the BON TON—that is the corset to remove the hips—durable, simple, no harness, no contrivances, no maid necessary to fasten on, with hose supporters that cross in the back. The Bon Ton does the work."

From the BOSTON TRAVELER:
 "The new corset holds the remodeled form in place and any woman, regardless of her weight, will look like a sylph."
 From the BOSTON POST.
 "Hips must go. I must show you how to reduce your hips—do away with them altogether—before I can successfully introduce the new gowns. It is, alas, the latest corset I have—the BON TON—will, enable any
